NEEDS ASSESSMENT

This program is designed to improve the management of both common and uncommon medical and surgical diseases of the cornea and lens. Attendees will gain a better understanding of the diagnosis and management of a diverse range of conditions, such as dry eye disease, pterygium and black and white cataracts. Program participants will also be updated on cutting-edge surgical techniques, such as corneal transplantation.

There are new options for the nonsurgical and surgical treatment of the aging face. Alternatives in medical and surgical management of thyroid eye disease, as well as newer techniques in blepharoplasty will be examined.

PURPOSE

The focus of this meeting will be to update the comprehensive ophthalmologist as well as the cornea specialist and oculofacial plastic surgeon on the latest in diagnosis, medical management, preoperative evaluation, surgical techniques, clinical outcomes, and postoperative complications management in the fields of cornea, cataract refractive and oculofacial plastic surgery, as well as research on future developments in these disciplines.

EDUCATIONAL OBJECTIVES

Upon completion of this program, participants should be able to:

- Analyze new surgical techniques and technology in oculoplastics such as dermal fillers and entropion repair
- Appraise the latest corneal inlays for presbyopia
- Apply the latest techniques and pearls to successfully manage different intraoperative and post-operative complications during cataract surgery
- Assess the evolving techniques and manage complications in corneal transplantation
- Cite outcomes from topography-guided laser ablation and understand the technology behind it
- Create a plan to manage corneal ectasia after LASIK
- Critique new techniques and manage complications in blepharoplasty
- Evaluate the current therapeutics in ocular surface disease
- Identify recent international initiatives to eradicate blindness in developing countries
- Manage the expectations and goals of refractive and cataract patients and understand how to manage those that have less than perfect outcomes after surgery
- Review advances in lacrimal surgery such as endoscopic revision dacryocystorhinostomy
- Review factors that improve or worsen thyroid eye disease (TED), and evaluate treatment modalities to modify and treat TED
- Summarize the core differences between LASIK and PRK
- Utilize correct diagnosis to manage and treat ptosis

ACCREDITATION

The New Orleans Academy of Ophthalmology is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education to provide continuing medical education for physicians.

DESIGNATION

The New Orleans Academy of Ophthalmology designates this educational activity for a maximum of 20.50 AMA PRA Category 1 Credits™. Physicians should only claim credits commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

NEW ORLEANS & ACTIVITIES

Now's the time to re-acquaint yourselves with the city you fell in love with. New to the city? Then check out some of the sights listed below.

The French Quarter: This 12-block area, also called the Vieux Carré (Old Square), is the heart of the city and borders the Mississippi River. The narrow streets of two- and three-story French and Spanish inspired buildings have a unique look. If historic sites interest you, see the Gallier House Museum (www.gnofn.org/~hggh), the Hermann-Grima House (www.gnofn.org/~hggh), the Old Ursuline Convent, and the Beauregard-Keyes House (504-523-7257). You'll find everything from fabulous jazz and five-star restaurants to strip clubs on world-famous Bourbon Street.

Cities of the Dead: A high water table and an elevation below sea level resulted in the practice of building aboveground tombs. There are 42 cemeteries in the metropolitan New Orleans area. Metairie, the most beautiful, and St. Louis Number One, the oldest, are worth a visit. Tour companies such as Save Our Cemeteries (504-525-3377) and Haunted History Tours (504-861-2727) offer guided tours.

Plantations and Historic Homes: The Garden District, minutes from the French Quarter, features many stately mansions, including the pristine post-Civil War Van Benthuy-sen-Elms Mansion and Gardens (504-895-9200, www.elmsmansion.com). The Longue Vue House (504-488-5488, www.longuevue.com) in Old Metairie is a spectacular 45-room mansion designed in a Classical Revival style.

By Land or by River: For a different view of the Mardi Gras City, take a riverboat cruise on the Mississippi River. Sightsee by day or go on a dinner jazz cruise. The Creole Queen Riverboat (504-587-1719, www.neworleanspaddlewheels.com) and the Steamboat Natchez (504-586-8777, www.steamboatnatchez.com) accept passengers. For landlubbers, the Riverfront streetcars are a great and economical way to sightsee.

FOR FAMILIES:

The Crescent City boasts one of the top 5 Aquariums and Zoos in the United States. The Audubon Aquarium of the Americas (504-581-4629, www.auduboninstitute.org) features the largest collection of sharks and jellyfish and a rare white alligator. Located next to the French Quarter and beautiful Woldenberg Park, the Aquarium is sure to please young and old alike. The Audubon Zoo (504-212-5452, www.auduboninstitute.org) has more than 2,000 animals in their natural habitat settings, including the Louisiana Swamp.
